

Community Giving guideline and application form

Our Community Giving program invites local grass-roots organisations to apply for up to $5,000 to support Western Australian communities where we work and live, including those neighbouring our operations and eligible regional communities.

Applications are open February to November each year

Our Focus Areas

Thriving communities

Contribute to healthy resilient communities and wellbeing; local service and social infrastructure delivery

Creating opportunities

Build diverse local economies and regional economic development; help children and young people reach their potential through quality education and training opportunities

Caring for Country

Promote healing and cultural knowledge sharing; long term preservation and management of cultural heritage; ongoing access to healing and care of Country; rehabilitation, cultural land management and closure.

Who can apply?

Local community groups, charitable or not-for-profit organisations delivering initiatives in the listed eligible communities.

Grant value

Each organisation may apply for one grant for up to $5,000 per calendar year. Rio Tinto may choose not to fund all, or any, of the amount requested, even if the application meets the funding criteria.
